

Codes for the different certificates!

Certificates are one of the most popular items nurses like to use when seeing children and needing to vaccinate them. I personally feel it's very important to make the experience as stress – free as it can be and use certificates and stickers within my consultations with young children.

On the following pages I have put a selection of bravery certificates together for very young children together, making the content that needs to be written as minimal as possible to save you time! These are all in colour and I'm looking for royalty free black and white pictures to make more, that children could colour in, but so far have had no success and am no artist so can't draw them myself!

I've made each certificate into an individual document with either just one image on the page or two images on the page. The latter will then make a smaller certificate but will be more cost effective if printing is an issue!

So here is the code to download the certificate you may prefer to use (in order of appearing in the images below)

- A – Teddy and stars, one on the page
- B – Teddy and stars, two on one page
- C – Teddy in the wars, one on the page
- D – Teddy in the wars, two on one page
- E – Elephant, one on the page
- F – Elephant, two on one page
- G – Panda, one on the page
- H – Panda two on one page
- J - Chicken, one on the page
- K – Chicken, two on one page

Certificates created by Jane Chiodini. May be used for personal work but are not to be used commercially.

This certificate is awarded to little star:

for being so brave when visiting the nurse today

Date

was so brave at the doctor's surgery today

Bravery
certificate awarded to

on

Well done

for being so brave when visiting the nurse today

Bravery certificate awarded to

by

on
