

Reviews for the Introduction to Travel Health E Learning course (Pilot Spring 2021)

This is a most comprehensive course about travel medicine that will fully enable nurses to start on the path to caring for their travelling patients. The information is clear and unambiguous, presented in an attractive, interactive way. I enjoyed it very much and have learned through the course where to access everything I could possibly need for a Practice Nurse consultation. It includes all the details of disease prevention and vaccinations and much more. I now can't wait to get on with my mentor and do the competencies in practice.

This is an amazing learning resource overall! Wish it had existed when I started in travel health! Having said that, as I've stated in the overall feedback, it has been really useful as a refresher having not done travel health for over 12mths due to Covid! It's really made me feel excited for getting back into seeing patients for travel again!

Lynne (Practice Nurse)

The course was absolutely fantastic. A very easy to understand, in depth and entertaining e-learning format. You are an excellent educator. Your resources in the tools section of your website is also invaluable and as is your website. We will, without a shadow of a doubt be recommending your courses to our colleagues. With supervised practice, I feel well prepared to deliver a safe service

I really enjoyed undertaking the Introduction to Travel Course online. Easy to follow, convenient and interesting content with excellent tools to support new and old to travel health clinicians with their pre assessment and consultations. Also, plenty of links to external resources providing a wealth of knowledge for those interested in progressing further in the field of travel health. I highly recommend this course.

I found this course informative and as it is broken down into sections you can work through at your own pace and to your own learning style and needs. Highly recommended.

Denise (Practice Nurse)

This course is a brilliant. Very informative, interactive and easy to follow. In the current times, training has had to change and this course really steps up and proves that training in primary care can continue even in these difficult times. I already had a knowledge of immunisations and vaccinations but found that the depth of this course really underpins that knowledge that I already had and built upon it to give me a good knowledge base for travel vaccines in primary care. Thank you so much, Jane, for all of your time and effort.

Sam (Practice Nurse)

The e-learning course was of huge value to me having previous limited knowledge in the field of travel health and medicine. The course was full of information and the style of the programme was vivid, fun and differed between modules to keep the user engaged. I would highly recommend the e-learning to anyone wishing to develop comprehensive knowledge in this field. The resources were also excellent for further education and for use as references when conducting travel health clinics.

Hayley (Pharmacist)

Very easy to use e-modules that guide you through all the relevant topics to introduce you to travel. you will learn more than you realise and have your brains challenged in a good way.

Michelle Practice Nurse

Fantastic course , easy to follow, really engaging and easy to understand

Nicola Practice Nurse

Completely new to travel and I found the content and pace of this course allowed me to get the most from it in my own time. Really comprehensive with many useful resources available to download and refer to in the future as needed. Would highly recommend.
